

HECKLERS AT WORK IN BRITISH CAMPAIGN

Organized Roughnecks Try to Stop All But Labor
Meetings.

CHURCHILL SPEAKS AGAIN

Says His Call to Dominions Kept the Turk From Invading Europe.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York, Nov. 11.

Though the main issues of the campaign are quieting down over the weekend, minor meetings are being enlivened by apparently organized efforts to break up all except labor meetings. Every speaker from Lady Astor in Plymouth to Winston Churchill's lieutenants in Dundee reports the presence at meetings of men who do not seek to heckle in the usual manner, but shout foolish questions in such a manner that the speaker not only cannot answer them but cannot even speak. Many instances of this have been met by a vigorous counter move.

One speaker who has been addressing meetings in behalf of a friend in the Liverpool district, after two unfortunate experiences organized his own band of roughnecks. He instructed them on a given signal not only to throw the disturbers out, but to send them to the hospital. This happened at two meetings, and since then this particular speaker has not been troubled. Though the old timers admit that such things are in keeping with the best spirit of old time British elections, the newcomers insist that they won't go now-a-days, and charge that the attempt to break up meetings are made by the Communists, who cannot make themselves felt in any other way.

Mr. Churchill signalled his return to the platform to-day by speaking from an arm chair at Dundee. He declared that his famous memorandum of September 16 kept the Turk from invading Europe, and he hoped the present Government would achieve the same result by sticking firmly to its declarations.

The news from the East is extremely slim, though it is reported that the cables have been restored. Churchill likewise plainly stated that the Balfour note regarding debts came at the moment when the Reparations Commission returned from Berlin reporting failure.

"I do not see any reason why the Germans should not pay $2,500,000,000 at the rate of $125,000,000 a year," said Mr. Churchill, "but I disagree with Asquith in his declaration that we ought to turn off the debtors while paying the American debt."

Lloyd George is continuing his triumphal tour in Wales, where the enthusiasm grows every time he appears. In his speeches to-day he told what he had done for the working classes in the way of old age pensions, unemployment doles, &c., and delighted his people at Carmarthen by speaking to them for quite a while in their native Welsh. It was an appeal for liberalism (his kind).

The betting at Lloyd's, however, remains substantially the same as it was last week; namely, 20 to 1 against Labor or the Wee Free Government, 10 to 1 against the Lloyd George Liberals and 10 to 3 against the Conservatives getting a majority. Bonar Law's threat is reported to be better, and he is expected to wind up his campaign at Glasgow Monday.

CROICHTIE, Wales, Nov. 11 (Associated Press).—After a strenuous week of campaigning former Premier Lloyd George was welcomed to his home town to-night by a great torchlight procession. He will spend a quiet week end here and depart Monday morning to begin a whirlwind finish of the campaign at Llanbigh and Flint.

Completing the third stage of his campaign in Wales the former Premier left Swansea early this morning and proceeded homeward. But he made numerous halts on the way and in a jovial mood addressed crowds energetically at numerous stations along the route.

Before leaving Swansea he spoke from the train window, appealing for support for Sir Alfred Mond, Parliamentary candidate from Llanelli.

A tumultuous welcome was given Mr. Lloyd George at the Market Hall, where a vast audience previously had stood silent for two minutes to commemorate the signing of the armistice.

Referring in his speech to the statement of John R. Clynes, the Labor leader, that as Premier he gave the working class nothing but words, Mr. Lloyd George said:

"I claim in the face of England, Scotland and Wales, in the face of the world and in the face of history, there is no British Minister who has ever devoted so much energy to or made more liberal provision for the misfortunes of the wage earning classes than I have."

Birkenhead Speaks.

BIRMINGHAM, England, Nov. 11 (Associated Press).—Lord Birkenhead, Lord Chancellor in the recent Cabinet, speaking at a Unionist rally here to-day, declared Mr. Lloyd George was not an "extinct volcano" as some people suppose. He added that Austen Chamberlain could have been Prime Minister if his conscience had allowed him to take that post, but that he had taken the view that the interests of the country and the empire were best served by the close association of all the forces that stood against extreme councils.

MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 11 (Associated Press).—The present moment, when the country had to stand solid in complete agreement with its allies, was no time for recriminations, declared the Earl of Derby, Secretary for War, campaigning for the Conservative cause here this afternoon. He was glad to say that the Government was acting in accord with the French, and wanted that accord to continue not only in the present crisis but also regarding reparations. Any failure by either nation would mean disaster.

Lord Derby denied that Prime Minister Bonar Law was trying to introduce protection in the country.

"You know I would not remain in the Government if a protectionist policy were introduced," he declared.

"I am sure the time will come, and is not far distant, when Austen Chamberlain will again find a place in the Government of this country," he said.

NORTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 11 (Associated Press).—Former Premier Herbert Asquith, addressing a meeting of Liberals here to-day, denied that his wing of the Liberal party was flirting with the Conservatives with a view to cooperating with the adherents of Bonar Law in the next Commons if the Premier needed outside support.

This report originated mainly in the fact that the Conservative party manager, Sir George Younger, recently launched at Mr. Asquith's home. The former Premier said the desire of the Liberals was to send Liberals to Parliament, and not to cooperate with the Tories, but to oppose them.

GOVERNOR ABSENT, PARDON MILL STARTS

Mississippi Executive Abruptly
Quits Football Game in Tennessee.

GETS BACK INTO STATE

Lieutenant-Governor, in Absence of His Chief, Orders
Two Men Set Free.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 11.—Gov. Lee M. Russell of Mississippi abruptly ended his visit to Memphis to attend the Tennessee-Mississippi A. and M. football game to-day and returned to Mississippi when it was reported that a movement was under way to grant pardons in his absence to two men now serving prison terms in Mississippi. The Governor spent the afternoon in the village of Horn Lake, just within the Mississippi boundary.

Gov. Russell left the speakers' stand during the ceremonies incident to an Armistice Day program, after receipt of a telegram which, he announced, indicated that Lieut.-Gov. H. H. Casteel, acting in his absence from the State, had ordered pardons granted to the two men.

Gov. Russell was driven to the State border at Horn Lake where he established temporary headquarters, announced his presence within the State and directed that no action be taken on any orders that might have been issued.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 11.—Secretary J. J. Connan of the State Prison Board, to-night refused to honor two pardons issued to-day to negro life terms by Lieut. Gov. H. H. Casteel, acting Governor of Mississippi in the absence of Gov. Lee M. Russell, who was in Memphis attending a football game.

The Governor's secretary, Macey Dinkins, declared to-night that Lieut. Gov. Casteel called this morning and asked him for pardons blankly which he refused to give to him. The acting Governor is then said to have prepared some forms and presented them to Secretary of State J. W. Powers for his signature.

Power refused the request until told by Attorney General Frank Robinson it was his duty to attest them provided the Governor was out of the State. Power then signed and stamped them with the seal of the State.

According to official circles at the Capital, the legality of the acting executive will be determined in the courts.

NEW YORKER RECOVERS $125,000 STOLEN GEMS

'Double' Took Them From
Baylinson's Room in Detroit.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
DETROIT, Nov. 11.—A thief, declared to have been an exact double of Nathan Baylinson, president of the Malden Lane Diamond and Jewelry Company, New York, walked up to the desk of the hotel in which Baylinson is staying here, obtained the key to Baylinson's room and had a trunk containing $125,000 worth of jewelry sent from the room to the Michigan Central station. He also took a grip containing $800 worth of ring mountings.

The thefts were last evening. The trunk was found to-day in a cheap lodging house. The grip has not been recovered nor has Baylinson's double been traced.

Baylinson has been at the hotel since Wednesday. At 5 o'clock last evening he left his room to keep a dinner appointment and was away until midnight. His "double" appeared at 7 o'clock and called for "1221." It was handed to him without question.

of Ex-Service Men's League.

A resolution urging the newly elected members of Congress to "strenuously oppose any legislation which may at any time be proposed for the purpose of providing gratuities, bonuses, adjusted compensation or service pensions to able bodied veterans of the world war," was passed at a meeting of the Ex-Service Men's Anti-Bonus League held last night at Hotel Astor.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: Edward L. Allen, national director; Weber De Vere, treasurer; and C. W. Conroy, secretary.

COST OF LIVING DROPS

New Standards Set by Industrial Board Study.

As the result of a field study made in a selected city, Lawrence, Mass., of the cost of living, the National Industrial Conference Board announces that it varied from $17.75 to $24.48 a week, according to the size of a family.

The minimum food budget amounted to $5.35 for a family with one child, $7.49 where there were two children and $8.95 where there were three children, or $204.20 to $165.40 a year. Rent came to $260. Clothing was figured at $167.36 to $227.92. Between November, 1919, and June, 1922, the minimum cost of living decreased 5.7 per cent. in Lawrence.

FREIGHT RATE CUTS FROM COAST DENIED

Roads Sought to Reduce
Charges Both Ways to Meet
Steamship Competition.

TARIFFS VIA GULF DOWN

Commerce Board, Rejecting
All Rail Petition, Allows
Part by Water One.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today denied transcontinental railroads authority to decrease freight rates between Pacific coast terminals and points east of the Rocky Mountains.

The roads had declared the reduction necessary to enable them to meet coast to coast competition of steamship lines. Granting of their application, which was challenged by a number of intermediate cities, including Spokane, Salt Lake City, Reno and Phoenix, would have made transcontinental rates generally lower than those on traffic to and from intermediate points. Practically all commodities in the commerce from the Pacific coast were covered in the application of the railroads.

The Southern Pacific Railroad, however, was authorized to reduce rail and water rates on certain commodities produced in California and destined to the Atlantic coast via Galveston and the Gulf of Mexico steamship lines.

This will allow the Southern Pacific and steamship lines to make a joint rate of 70 cents per 100 pounds on coast to coast movement of asphalt, canned goods and rice, and 50 cents on dried fruits, even though rates for shorter distances over the same general route may be higher. The road was authorized to make similar rates on sulphur moving from Louisiana and Texas to Pacific coast points.

The commission held that the railroads

WHITNEY SEES A PLOT IN MISS FONTAINE SUIT

Says She Spoke of Baby in Letters to Adair.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
NYAC, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Mortimer B. Patterson, counsel for Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, who is being sued by Evan Burrows Fontaine to establish the paternity of her child, presented evidence to-day before Justice Tompkins in the special term of the Supreme Court to show that Miss Fontaine obtained the annulment of her marriage to Sterling Adair by fraud.

He asked Justice Tompkins to vacate the annulment, to present Miss Fontaine and her mother to the Grand Jury and to refer Charles Firestone, her counsel, to the grievance committee of the Bar Association of New York City for helping her.

Counsel for Whitney presented affidavits to show that Miss Fontaine had lived for many months with Adair; that she had written to him and mentioned the child they were expecting, and that her statements in the annulment action against Adair were false.

STEAMSHIP MUNDALE AFIRE OFF HATTERAS

Schooner Lillian E. Kerr Also in Distress.

N°5678, Nov. 11.—Assistance was sent late to-day to a steamship afire seventy-five miles off Cape Hatteras. Wireless messages indicated the vessel was the Mundale, but that vessel was in port at Baltimore. Steamship officials believed the craft was the Mundale, of 2,671 tons register, which plies between New York and Cuba.

The Coast Guard cutter Manning, on the way to the schooner Lillian E. Kerr, reported in distress seventy-five miles off Cape Henry, was instructed by wireless to proceed to the aid of the steamer. Other craft were sent to the schooner.
